Tyrik Wynn's Bio:

Tyrik stands as the youngest news anchor for iHeartRADIO's Black Information Network (BIN), a testament to his exceptional career trajectory within the media industry. His impactful journey began in 2022 with iHeart. He played a pivotal role in launching local news segments in BIN's Macon, Columbus, and Augusta markets in Georgia. Tyrik's commitment to journalistic excellence earned him the promotion to BIN anchor in October of 2023, solidifying his position as a trusted voice in the media landscape.

A proud graduate of Georgia State University in May 2022, Tyrik distinguished himself as a news anchor for 'Panther Report News,' the university's esteemed news station. He also showcased his versatility by hosting 'The Signal In A Minute,' a weekly show for the Georgia State Signal. Tyrik's academic journey laid the foundation for his subsequent achievements in the professional arena.

Tyrik has garnered numerous accolades for his outstanding contributions to journalism, including prestigious awards such as Best Television Hard News Reporter, Best Television Journalist, and Best Interview. His leadership qualities shone through during his two-term presidency at the National Association of Black Journalists - Georgia State chapter, underscoring his commitment to fostering diversity and excellence in the field.

As the CEO of Wynn Productions LLC, Tyrik established himself as an entrepreneur of note, founding a thriving video production company and content creation studio based in metro Atlanta. At the age of 22, he became the youngest studio owner, demonstrating not only his entrepreneurial spirit but also his ability to make significant strides in the business realm.

Tyrik's impact extends beyond the studio, as he serves as a national television journalist on the popular TV ONE shows 'Fatal Attraction' and 'For My Man.' These true crime shows bear witness to Tyrik's dedication to storytelling, as he skillfully unravels the intricate narratives behind each tragic event.

In addition to his journalistic pursuits, Tyrik is a published author, having penned two books. His debut work, "Green Is The Thing: Money Management For Kids," written at the age of 14, imparts valuable financial wisdom to young readers. In 2020, he authored "How To Create Your Own TV Talk Show," a guide empowering aspiring creators to bring their vision to the television screen.

Beyond his professional endeavors, Tyrik embraces a zest for life. His interests span from global travel and adventurous pursuits such as roller coasters, zip-lining, and surfing to more leisurely activities like fishing, golfing, and indulging in the culinary delights of Atlanta's finest restaurants. Tyrik's multifaceted personality shines through, reflecting a professional who not only excels in his career but also leads a rich and fulfilling life outside the studio.
